

If you wish to sort your printer's macros into categories, this is how it works for fluidd:

- Open fluidd's Preferences:

- Click "Macros":

- Click "Add Category"

Enter the desired category-name, ie "Mesh":

- Click on "Uncategorized"

- Click on a macro, and assign it to the desired category:

MESH_CREATE_ALL_MULTIPLE

Creates bed meshes in steps of 10°C, which can then be automatically used for upcoming prints, according to the bed's print temperature.
